Freedom Rides May 20, 1961 marked a key turning point in American history. Here at Montgomery's Greyhound Bus Station, a small group of students risked their lives to end separation of black and white people in bus, train, and plane travel.

Freedom Rides Museum In May 2011, we will commemorate the 50th Anniversary of the Freedom Rides. Please join us in reflecting on this significant event as we open an exhibit inside the Bus Station. Check out www.montgomerybusstation.org for updates on our plans or send us your contact information, so we can let you know about all the events that will be happening.

Tell a friend and bring your family. We look forward to seeing you in Montgomery!
