

Box 30

Indiánola, Mississippi

Dear Mrs. or Miss (you see how our society has not prepared us to exist within its confines) Kaplow.

I received the money order yesterday, 12/14, and am returning it for 2 reasons. It is unsigned and my name is misspelled. It is Linda Seese, not Cesse. I assume the latter was a typographical error somewhere along the line and above the alck of a signature, perhaps this is unnecessary. I don't know as I am unfamiliar with this type of currency. Please advise soon.

I am very glad to be selected by the Unitarian Society and more glad to write them, since I have always found that letters are essential to my living and especially down here in this "Other Country." You may rest assured that I shall write at least twice a month. I believe I have already written to this group informing them a little about myself and how best to send money. Actually, personal checks work as well as money orders, so if they prefer this method, please inform them, since I believe ~~that~~ I told them money orders were preferable. Either is fine,

Is there a specific lady to whom I should write? I am afraid that through the usual chaos that results when many people live in cramped quarters under adverse conditions, to say the least, I have managed to lose their address. Actually, I should prefer to write to one, if such is the case, since a person is so much more human than an organization. Perhaps you could advise me a little about this person or group, so I may avoid tactic errors in corresponding the ambiguous realities and truths learned from Mississippi. I assume that Unitarian church women in Wisconsin are similar to those in Boston and unlike the conservative church women I know in my native Ohio!

Again, thank you for your work on my behalf and the behalf of Mississippi and our nation and of course yourself; for I strongly feel that this is the hope for the salvation of the country, church in America and the sick, sick Americans that we are.

A happy holiday season to all of you in cold Wisconsin. We shall be happily busy with a Freedom School schedule that runs solid from 9 am until 11 pm with work on the FDP Congressional Challenge being the major emphasis for the next 6 months, but especially strong now until Jan. 4.

Yours in Freedom,

Linda M. Seese
