Atlanta, Georgia

March 1  MCCOMB — County officials served the entire SNCC staff plus local leaders with an injunction prohibiting them from demonstrating or encouraging others to demonstrate. In the afternoon 35 students and 11 staff people were arrested at the Pike County courthouse. A lawyer who went to the jail was first thrown out. When he returned, he was attacked from behind by the jailer.

CASKN, ALA. — Negroes seeking to register were forced to go to a building separate from the courthouse where whites were registering.

March 2 CAJEM, ALA. — Police stopped a march of 100 Negroes who were on their way to the courthouse. The mayor told them that they need to get a permit to march from the city council. The next council meeting was set for two weeks.

March 3 COLUMBUS — SNCC worker was arrested for reckless driving and improper brakes. The arrest was made by a highway patrolman well-known for his harassment of rights workers.

INDIANOLA — The formerly white-only library finally integrated. However, all of the tables and chairs were removed.

MARCH — A group of thirty students attempted to test public accommodations but each restaurant closed down before they arrived. Later in the day, two workers were arrested on charges of contributing to the delinquency of minors.

March 5 GREENWOOD — The home of Silas McGhee was fire-bombed. The fire was put out by a truck driver with a fire extinguisher who was passing at the time of the blaze. Previously the home had been shot into and Silas McGhee himself had been shot once and beaten a number of times. The family has long been active in voter registration activities.

MELZOT — A local leader was arrested and charged with interfering with the duties of an officer.

INDIANOLA — The Freedom School and SNCC office was burned to the ground. Fire also destroyed a staff car. Right SNCC workers who tried to enter the area were arrested by police who had cordoned off the area. Police took all of the files which included lists of local Negroes who belonged to the Freedom Democratic Party.

COLUMBUS — SNCC worker was fined $2 for failing to stop at a non-existent stop sign. Arrest was made by a highway patrolman notorious for his arrests and harassments of rights workers.

CAJEM, ALA. — Police and white citizens stopped an attempted march on the courthouse by more than 50 people.

March 6 SELMA, ALA. — 68 white Alabamans march to the county courthouse in sympathy with the Negro vote drive. They were heckled by a crowd of 200-300 whites who sang "Dixie" when the marchers began singing "America the Beautiful." Two white civil rights photographers were beaten by mobs.

MARCH — Two Negroes were refused tickets to the annual "pilgrimage."

March 7 ALABY, GA. — SNCC worker Randy Battle was arrested for not having the proper papers for his car with him. SELMA — State troopers and Dallas County possemen attacked a group of 600 marchers bound for Montgomery with tear gas, clubs, ropes, and whips. Among the injured was SNCC chairman John Lewis.

March 8 HOLLY SPRINGS — The washroom in the County Courthouse was integrated by two local Negroes.

SELMA — The Medical Committee for Human Rights had 4 ambulances ready to cross the bridge (after the people had been stormed into by the State Troopers). They were stopped by Police Commissioner Baker and state troopers for 15-30 minutes.

LITTLE ROCK, ARK. — Demonstration was held at Hotel Marion, where the conference of Southern Attorney Generals was being held. This conference protested Sunday's violence in Selma.
March 9
MOULTRIE, GA.—Eight people have been arrested in connection with arson cases at Bryant HS; Herman Kitchens thinks they were arrested because they are active with the Movement.
MARKS—35 students protested jailing of SNCC staff and that they weren't being fed in the jail. They were not allowed to go to the jail by the City Marshal and Sheriff, who arrested 17 of the students.
MISS POINTS—26 students, staff and adults are picketing the Magnolia Jr-Sr HS here, as part of a boycott which has been going on for two weeks; now they were arrested. They were charged with failure to obey an officer and trespassing. Police didn't only pick up demonstrators but went across the street and took people out of stores, etc.
SEIMA—1500-2000 people began an attempted march to Montgomery. At the bridge, a federal marshall read the injunction forbidding the march. The people continued across the bridge, where they were met by about 60 state troopers; the people knelt in prayer and turned around and marched back to town.

March 10
SEIMA—A march on the courthouse was planned, but the marchers were stopped by Police Chief Baker; seven Negro teenagers were injured today after they had attempted to march to the courthouse.

Two doctors from the Medical Committee for Human Rights were arrested and taken to the courthouse; they were told they would be arrested if they practiced in the state of Alabama. Meanwhile Rev. Reeb, one of the three white ministers beaten when coming out of dinner, is near death. 200 people left Brown's Chapel for the Courthouse at 8:15 pm; they were stopped by state and city police. People are staying out in the streets all night.

MONTGOMERY—Over 900 people marched to the state capitol; they planned to stay all night. Their permit to demonstrate expired at midnight, however at 2 am 150 people were still in front of the capitol. They are surrounded by state troopers and city police, but they have been left alone.

MOULTRIE, GA.—Two churches 18 miles apart from Moultrie were burned Sunday morning, less than an hour apart. Roy Shields feels that the burning is a form of intimidation.

March 11
SEIMA—100 people are still camped out in the street. The people decided to hold an all-night vigil outside in recognition of Rev. Reeb's death.

LITTLE ROCK—In the morning 35 people attempted to integrate the cafe in the basement of the State Capitol, which calls itself a private club but has served two white staff members without membership cards. They stood outside the door of the cafe and asked to be served; the police shoved and pushed the demonstrators down the hall. Bill Hansen, SNCC Arkansas project director, was beaten by state troopers. That evening 170 people marched from the SNCC office to the Capitol, where they protested the morning's beatings.

MONTGOMERY—Jim Forman attempted to lead a march from the Dexter Ave. Baptist Church to the capitol. On the way seven of the marchers were beaten and arrested for disorderly conduct; the rest were forced back into the church.

BENTON CO.—The boycott of the Old Salem Attendance Center was over 90% effective in its second day; the five Freedom Schools had an attendance of 200.

March 19  SELMA—300 people attempted to picket Mayor Smitherman's house; they were arrested. A10 people were taken into custody by the City Police and taken to the Negro Community Center.

MONTGOMERY—36 people, picketing the city hall to protest yesterday's arrests, were arrested for loitering. 70 more were arrested for picketing the capitol building. Everyone arrested since yesterday noon, about 200 people, are in the Montgomery City Jail on a hunger strike. They will not eat until the Federal Government has released the 1960 Civil Rights Act and initiates a suit to restrain the police here from making further arrests.

LITTLE ROCK—35 people returned to the Capitol Cafe, while they were going down the steps mustard gas was thrown on them by a local citizen. Forty state troopers attacked the demonstrators; eight people had to be hospitalized.

GREENWOOD—SNCC is planning to organize an elementary school for local kids, who for various reasons can not attend the regular school.

March 20  MONTGOMERY—For the first time, SNCC is instigating a suit in its own name in the federal court; it is seeking to get an injunction against the police for arresting people the last two nights while they were exercising their first amendment constitutional rights.
March 21  SELMA—6-7,000 marchers left here around 12:35 pm. Federalized National Guardsmen, State Troopers, and city police lined the route of the march.
JACKSON FDR—The State's 40 days to hold deposition hearings is almost over; they have never called any witnesses. Soon the FDP will have ten days to hold final hearings. They plan to hold them on April 2 and 3.
March 22  LITTLE ROCK—Several months ago, the Inc. Fund filed suit against the Capitol Club. The suit has not yet been acted upon. According to a TV report, the Board of Directors of the Club closed the club until the suit comes into the court and is heard.
VICKSBURG—There was a bombing of the Vicksburg Cafe, which was integrated during the winter.
SELMA—300 people are marching today; they plan to go 17 miles.
Whites are jeering at the marchers. There are lots of Federalized troops around.

March 23  MARSH—Some of the kids arrested in Marks around March 9 were arrested with warrants; there are rumors they may be sent to reform school.
BILoxi—FDP people are driving from Biloxi, where they are having a political education workshop, to Montgomery, to support the demonstration and to speak about the FDP Challenge in order to gain support from Alabama people for it.
LITTLE ROCK—50 clergymen marched to Gov. Faubus' office and presented him with a petition requesting him to reopen the Capitol Cafe immediately—to people of all races.

March 24  VICKSBURG—18 young people from the area began work yesterday as part of the National Council of Churches' Freedom Corps Project.
The purpose of the program is to help Negro youths on the fringes of the Movement to develop leadership skills in their communities.

March 25  GREENVILLE—During the past three days, 25 people have been arrested while walking through a white neighborhood on their way to picket the Greenville Mills. John Cotto, a white worker, was arrested on Nelson Street in the Negro neighborhood while passing out leaflets.
MONTGOMERY—10,000 people were gathered at the State Capitol for a mass meeting, celebrating the end of the march.
