

FOR WHOM THE (SCHOOL) BELL TOLLS

Its not only the 80 Negro school children in Lincoln ave. Methodist Church basement. Nor is it only for Negro parents who face the daily shame of seeing their jimcrowed children deprived of an equal education.

It tolls for everyone in our community, white as well as black. For those who know better but would rather look the other way as well as those who suffer from it directly.

The Pasadena School Board and its Chief Agent, Robert Jenkins, bear major responsibility for this situation. They not only approve the present jimcrow school arrangement but are doing all they can to extend it.

We condemn Lincoln Methodist Church leaders and Rev. Dan Towler for permitting themselves to be used against the best interests of the Negro school children, now in the basement.

We of Pasadena C.O.R.E. call on the entire community to unite in demanding the School Board reverse this dangerous policy which is sowing the seeds of racial hate and future violence.

Andx the way to do it is to vote NO on the school bond issue at the upcoming election. This is the only language the School Board apparently understands. We say not another dime should be given them for the continued mis-education of Pasadena school children.
