

- P/1/1 Congratulations! You have been born in Americana--the land of freedom, justice, law, order, morality, goodness, motherhood, and apple pie.
- P/1/2 Socialization Process
- P/1/3 25%: Your parents read Spock--you have pacifistic tendencies.
25%: Your parents read Rafferty--you have fascistic tendencies.
- P/1/4 2%: Your parents read Sartre--things are pretty absurd but you realize it.
30%: Your parents read Reston and Lippman--a typical liberal wishy-washy upbringing. You realize the problems of the society but can rationalize anything.
- P/1/5 18%: Your parents are of a minority group. Both work full time. You learn to fend for yourself.
- P/1/6 The Ten Commandments
- P/1/7 1. Thou shalt survive if thou art the fittest.
2. Thou shalt be free if thou supportest the status quo.
- P/1/8 3. Fucketh not thy mother or father.
4. Speaketh freely as long as thou shalt not changeth anything.
5. Maketh the proper connections and ye shall be rewarded.
- P/1/9 6. Poisoneth thyself not with cannibus sativa or lysergic acid, only with fire water, American tobacco, tranquilizers, and mass media.
- P/1/10 7. Keepeth business before pleasure and morality.
8. Thou shalt have sympathy for thy friends thou hast wiped out.
- P/1/11 9. Thou shalt have no other gods before me. (Collage of cars, televisions, electric toothbrush, etc.)
- P/1/12 10. Thou shalt kill only for thy gods. (pictures of Johnson, MacNamara, television, cars, etc.)
- P/1/13 You're now entering high school. "Question not and ye shall be rewarded."
- P/1/14 School begins promptly at 8:00 a.m. If late go home and have loyalty oath signed by both parents.
- P/1/15 8:01 a.m. Stand and recite Pledge of Allegiance. Kneel and recite the Lord's Prayer. Lay down and sing the Star Spangled Banner. Roll over and bark.
- P/1/16 History Lessons. George Washington kept slaves but he called them Negroes. White expansionism wiped out most of the Indians. Those who survived live in concentration camps, but they were savages.

- P/1/17 English -- Suzie missed her period--You'd better start worrying.
P.E. -- You forgot to wash your gym trunks -- 50 pushups.
- P/1/18 Lunch break -- You and Louie sneak off campus, smoke half a pack of cigarettes and drive around the shopping center 35 times.
- P/1/19 Math '57 Chevy's are better than '58's.
Health Stay after school for knowing more than your teacher.
- P/1/20 You've questions about ? (Scattered topics like Vietnam, sex, exploitation, etc. spread randomly and in different directions all over the poster.)
- P/1/21 No real answers. So -- Let's turn to more important things.
(Pictures of cheerleaders, clothes, hair-dos, etc.)

- P/2/1 About the only thing keeping you in school is Mommy and Daddy and the lunch time pot caucus.
- P/2/2 You are frustrated by present campus organizations-- Junior Achievement, Teen Club, Youth for Christ...So you try forming a Youth for Peace.
- P/2/3 Suspension -- Go home for 3 days. (Cartoon: teacher says to parents, "Jonathan is a nice boy and quite bright, but I'm afraid he's an individual.")
- P/2/4 You fell asleep in History class -- Repeat the class next Remove semester.
- P/2/5 Well you've made it through and got what you deserved. (Cartoon: toilet paper roll diploma)

P/2/4

*not student / she gets 7th grade /
 (Cartoon) 1980*

P/C/1

You have a choice. You can either continue with your high school education or you can drop out of school. If you want to drop out take the path to the left. If you want to go on to graduation continue straight ahead.

ADD SEX chance cards

Chance. Please flip up the top card and follow the directions.

- P/4/1 Welcome to the college dream of "liberal education". Intellectual stimulation, freedom, parties, "developing your potential", fraternities and sororities, football games, individuality, the isolated and protected academic community, finding meaning for your life, grappling with the great questions of life, finding out how to think not what to think.
- P/4/2 Your own personal reg. line (A thru Be - 8 a.m.)
(Rough sketch of line)
- P/4/2 $\frac{1}{2}$ Typical class notes (Bruce's pictures)
- P/4/3 How personal! Required undergrad classes are often mass lectures of up to 1500 students (even here at SFSC Creative Arts 10 is a class of 700.)
- P/4/4 Televised lectures are becoming more common each year.
- P/4/4 $\frac{1}{2}$ Ngo Dinh Diem was indoctrinated and trained at Michigan State University.
- P/4/5 The UCB Radiation Lab functions for whose purposes?
- P/4/6 Navy ROTC (Picture of plane -- Fly navy - go up in the world.)
From 2 days to 2 weeks of ROTC classes are mandatory at many colleges.
- P/4/7 Is SS 20 a critique of American ideals and institutions or does it reiterate the 'greatness' of American values?
- P/4/8 REGURGITATE
Why have there been no courses on Black history, labor history, or American Indian history?
- P/4/9 Rush Delta Sigma Phi and struggle with the pressing problems of the world!
- P/4/10 Developing your potential (Pictures of cheerleader, bra ad, scattered sayings like Rah Rah girls, panty raids)
- P/4/11 Freedom? Dorm rules
1. No girls (or guys) in rooms.
2. No booze.
3. No "obscenity".
4. Hours: in by midnight, quiet hours 10 to 7 a.m.
5. Dress properly.
*consider add male relevance
4/11 - 4/13*
- P/4/12 Be a social success (Collage of ads--cars, booze, cosmetics)
- P/4/13 Grappling with the great questions of life. (Picture of wrestling match)
- P/4/14 How many courses deal with problems facing everyone in this society? Like racism--what is it? How do you fight it?
- P/4/15 ...And like the Vietnam war--issues, facts, and its effect on society. Impersonality of life and how to cope with it (or change it). Affluence and Materialism--their goods and evils. Shouldn't these be G.E. requirements?

- P/5/1 Welcome to radical activism.
- P/5/2 Activist Activities (pictures of demonstrations, meetings, etc.)
- P/5/3 STDW benefit dance poster.
- P/5/4 Radical concerns written in random form all over the poster.
- P/5/5 An inevitable problem one faces who actively opposes the status quo. (picture of cop with club)
- P/5/6 Affluence is great -- but its distribution in America is oppressive.
- P/5/7 Liberalism is no answer. No McKennedy's.
- P/5/8 The Democratic party sells out every time...
- P/5/9 ...Build an independent radical movement.
- P/5/10 Kennedy and McCarthy voted for all war appropriations.
- P/5/11 Kennedy and McCarthy voted against 10% cut in war appropriations.
- P/5/12 McCarthy voted against the following draft amendments...
- P/5/13
1. Voluntary service for Southeast Asia.
 2. Two year rather than four year extension of the draft.
 3. Volunteer system to replace conscription.
 4. Reduce draft to 18 months of service.
 5. Creation of national standards for classification and deferment.
- x → P/5/14 You accept arrest as a real (inevitable?) possibility.
(Wanted poster for the December 6th twelve).
- P/5/15 You are frustrated with the slowness of change. But you get great satisfaction from being a force of change in a rapidly changing world.
- P/C/4 Choice card leading to activism or acquiescence.

- P/7/1 You decide to work as a full time "organizer" for the movement.
- P/7/2 Your relations with your family become strained. (Letter: Dear son, We can't understand why you have dropped out of school and destroyed your chances of making something of yourself. We had always hoped that someday you would be able to use the advantages....etc.)
- P/7/3 You now have no income from home. You must try to live on the $80 per month the movement pays you (when they have it).
- P/7/4 You had intended to sally forth like the "knight of yore" to do battle with the "forces of evil." Organizing the oppressed and powerless to fling off their oppressors...
- P/7/5 Instead you are forced to spend long hours each day Re-evaluating your value system, reassessing your goals, un-learning your pre-conceived notions of other cultures, learning a new way of life. Surviving "cultural shock."
- P/7/6 You want to be an "organizer." Instead you found yourself once again a student. But in a school with neither report card nor security. Your failures are daily made known to you. Your successes are hard to see. P/7/5 1/2 Werner's autonomous fit choice
- P/7/7 Gradually you learn your trade. You begin to have confidence in yourself and so do those who work with you.
- P/7/8 Step by tiny step you begin to build for a better world. Meeting by meeting, demonstration by demonstration, vote by vote, person by person.
- P/7/9 Pictures of people in meetings, etc.
- P/7/10 Jail is no stranger to you now. Neither is frustration and bitterness. Failures are many, successes few. Long hours of tension and tedium take their toll.
- P/7/11 There are dangers too, fear must be faced--and conquered.
- P/7/12 Pictures of demonstrations
- P/7/13 The small material rewards somehow make the psychological ones all the greater.
- P/C/5 Choice of going on in radicalism or trying to work within the system.

- P/8/1 Now the going gets tougher.
- P/8/2 Police attacks intensify. (Pictures of STDW)
- P/8/3 The media brands you "a militant." Your liberal financial support dwindles away.
- P/8/4 Although now facing doubled hostility and harassment from the establishment you continue to build step by step, brick by brick, man by man.
- P/8/5 More pictures of rallies, meetings, demonstrations, picket lines, etc.
- P/8/6 The satisfaction and pride you gain from struggling even though against the odds, to build something you believe in far exceed the privations, difficulties, and dangers.
- P/L/2 Choice cards -- get killed, jailed, etc.

- P/9/1 Although many of your brothers and sisters have been arrested, interned, or killed you continue to struggle.
- P/9/2 You struggle for a country that allows people to have control over their own lives.
- P/9/3 For a country that uses its human and economic resources for the good of all, rather than the benefit of a small elite.
- P/9/4 For a country whose educational institutions develop and enlighten rather than condition to support a corrupt status quo.
- P/9/5 For a country that is no longer infected with the 3 "isms" of imperialism, militarism, and racism.
- P/9/6 For a country that fulfills the promises of the Declaration of Independence.
- P/9/7 excerpt from Declaration of Independence.

- 0/2/1 If this is where you were born what made you think you would ever leave? (Picture of a ghetto with a little black boy in the middle)
- 0/2/2 How many of these jobs would you qualify for? (Job section of newspaper want ads)
- 0/2/3 These are your brothers and sisters. If they are hungry will you only feed yourself? (Pictures of poor children)
- 0/2/4 When was the last time they treated you with respect. (A struggle for the right to be human.) (Pictures, cartoon)
- 0/2/5 You leave your family so they can get welfare. Your wife is forced, under duress, to sign a warrant for your arrest. (Under some laws no family can get welfare if a man is living with them, no matter how poor they are.)
- 0/2/6 93% of Job Corp trainees end up fully qualified for the armed forces. (Picture of Uncle Sam -- "Join")
- 0/2/7 How would you feel if you were evicted from your slum so that they could build a high-rise apartment for executives. (Picture of apartment)

- 0/3/1 You have managed to get a job. You are a trainee at a finance company with good pay. You are overjoyed.
- 0/3/2 Because you are a "minority" representative, and a "first" for the company, the boss insists upon a welcoming celebration.
- 0/3/3 Naturally the press is called for proper exposure for the company. Everyone fauns over you. Outwardly you smile-- Inwardly you feel sick.
- 0/3/4 Nevertheless you believe you are now part of the middle class and are determined to live like it.
- 0/3/5 You decide to move out of the "old neighborhood" into the suburbs.
- 0/3/6 Twenty-seven real estate offices later, you find a broker who is willing to show you suburban housing.
- 0/3/7 You are now installed in your own 3 bedroom, split-level, with 2½ bath, automatic dishwasher, color t.v., and a new car.
- 0/3/8 All these "necessities" have been obtained on "time" of course.
- 0/3/9 The pressure is really on you. One "false step" either on the job or in your private life will bring your new "stocks" crashing down on your head!
- 0/3/10 You kill yourself at your job and you feel isolated in your "3 bedroom, 2½ bath, split-level in the suburbs."
- 0/3/11 You long for your friends and the old neighborhood. It is Hell there, but also it is familiar and friendly. But you don't dare go back.
- 0/3/12 Bad news -- Business has dropped of 1% this quarter and as the newest employee You Are Let Go.
- 0/3/13 Today you are especially unhappy. It is the day the finance company is picking up the color t.v., automatic dishwasher, and the car.
- 0/3/14 You Are Now in the "Old Neighborhood," but in a sense you feel relieved. But the relief is short-lived---You are back where you started from.

- 0/4/1 Pictures of the drug scene.
- 0/4/2 Your life is in the street and home is in the gutter.
- 0/4/3 For this you have given your home and your family, your friends and your enemies.
- 0/4/4 Six inches of water in a lonely ditch is your grave.

O/C/1

You must now make a choice. As you have seen, whenever you have begun to improve your life something has happened to knock you back down again. You now see that ~~th~~ under our social system it is very hard for a person like you to better himself. You have two choices. If you want to fight the system and try to overthrow it, if you want to risk going to jail, risk losing what little you have, risk getting killed, then take the path that forks to the RIGHT. ~~If~~

If you want to continue to try to make it and improve yourself under the system, if you do not want to risk what little you have, your life, or your freedom, all for an impossibility anyway, then take the path that forks to the LEFT.

- 0/5/1 You have decided to fight against your oppression.
- 0/5/2 Join Community Union - poor white and working class organizing. (Clipping from the NCU issue of The Firing Line) "Don't shake it, break it" Uptown, Chicago.
- 0/5/3 Collage - The Southern Patriot, S.C.E.F., Pike Folk School to Open, Battle for Open Housing, Fight Mountain Poverty, Poor Southern Organizing. (Cartoon - Congressman to slum dweller, "One side, lady - we're looking for a conspiracy.") Picture of poor white family.
- (NO 4) 0/5/5 Ten Points of the Black Panther Party - 1 through 5.
- 0/5/6 Ten Points continued - 6 through 10.
- 0/5/7 The life of minorities in America is oppressive but your life - struggling for change is doubly oppressed.
- 0/5/8 The cops are looking to arrest you and kill you - because you are fighting to end racism and control your life and community.
- 0/5/9 Such is the life of the Black Panther Party member in Oakland - just to name one group.
- 0/5/10 Collage - Big City Revolts

0/L/2 Chance - Please flip up the top card and follow the directions.

O/D You are now faced with the draft. (Draft chance cards)

Point * If you have just been released from the jail or the army re-enter the game at this point.

- 0/6/1 You continue to struggle. Organize! Organize! Organize!
- 0/6/2 You struggle for a country that allows people to have control over their own lives. For a country that is no longer infected with the 3 "isms" - imperialism, militarism, and racism.
- 0/6/3 For a country that uses its educational institutions to develop and enlighten people rather than condition them to support a corrupt status quo.
- 0/6/4 For a country that uses its human and economic resources for the good of all, rather than for the benefit of a small elite.
- 0/6/5 For a country that fulfills the promises of the Declaration of Independence.
- 0/6/6 "We hold these truths to be self evident...etc."

- 0/7/1 You believe that your problems as an oppressed person exist because the people in Power don't really "understand."
- 0/7/2 You decide that what you can do is to gain "acceptance" from the "Power Structure" and then explain the way it really is.
- 0/7/3 To do this you join the Police Community Relations group in your neighborhood.
- 0/7/4 After being active in this group for a while, you begin to see "the other side" of the story.
- 0/7/5 You start becoming vocal at the Police Community Relations meetings.
- 0/7/6 "The police are just doing "their job", they never harass people or use unnecessary force."
- 0/7/7 You now work for the Police Department, spreading the "Truth" to other oppressed people.
- 0/7/8 You are elected to the Poverty Board in your neighborhood.
- 0/7/9 Congratulations - Whenever the "Power Structure" needs a "responsible" oppressed person, they choose you. You have gained acceptance.
- 0/7/10 One question. What have you really won?!

0/8/11 PIG!

- H/1/1 Numerous contradictions keep you from accepting goals of the existing system so you search for new ones.
- H/1/2 Your first trip.
- H/1/3 Cartoon picture of open mouth with flowers growing from tongue.
- H/1/4 You've found the beginning of your new life a bit different. In your search for freedom you've been busted for sleeping at a private beach.
- H/1/5 The cops have had a change of heart and decided to beat you up rather than bust you.
- H/1/6 Panhandle 15¢ (for bus fare) from the person behind you and go immediately to Haight-Ashbury Medical Clinic. You've contracted hepatitis from a coke bottle shared with 16 of your friends.
- H/1/7 Haight-Ashbury Medical Clinic. Closed for lack of funds. Go home and suffer.
- H/1/8 Money is a hang-up but Billy Graham demands $3.00 for the Fillmore--

| Panhandling | $.37 |
| Selling Barbs | 1.70 |
| Posing for a tourist | .50 |
| Reciting a poem at the Blue Unicorn | .54 |
| Found on sidewalk | .05 |
- H/1/9 You have numerous creative talents so you decide to put them to use.
- H/1/10 As an artist -- prostitute your art or starve.
- H/1/11 As a writer - (Rejection letter - The editors of Blurb magazine thank you for your submission. Unfortunately we can not use your material at this time. Sincerely, Barry Biderman, Editor)
- H/1/12 As a musician - join the growing list.
- H/1/13 Can you really be free in this society? You must decide now whether to fight it jointly or do your own thing.

H/C/1 You now have a choice. If you want to continue being a hippy take the path straight ahead. If you want to fight the system politically then take the path to the right.

H/2/1 Sorry -- Back to the clinic. You've been warned about sharing needles.

H/L/1 Chance - Please flip up the top card and follow the directions.

H/3

H/3/1 You decide to move to a commune in the country.

H/3/2 The natives of the area are hostile to your commune -- The local cops begin to harass you.

H/3/4 To maintain your life style as a "free man" you find it necessary to compromise.

H/3/5 You'd like to get stoned to forget your compromising -- but that's one of the things they made you give up.

INDUCTION CENTER (sign)

A/C/1 This is the Army Induction Center. Although demonstrators are being clubbed and maced outside all is serene inside. Unfortunately for you all your tricks, ploys and other attempts to avoid the draft have failed and you are now standing in the room. The Sergeant has ordered you to step across the line and thus enter the service. You now have a choice. You may step across the line in front of you and continue on your way in the service straight ahead or you can go directly to jail. May God have mercy on your soul.

- A/1/1 Welcome to basic training (Please leave your mind and conscience outside the barracks gates.)
- A/1/2 You are now olive drab from your shaven head to your booted feet. You find it hard to distinguish your fellow soldiers. Perhaps they find it hard to distinguish you.
- A/1/3 Get up at 4:00 am. You wonder where you are. The Sergeant calls you "boy" and threatens to whip your ass.
- A/1/4 Do 20 push-ups! (You were out of step when they marched you to the rifle range.)
- A/1/5 Do 50 push-ups for not knowing that the spirit of the bayonet is "to kill."
- A/1/6 During hand to hand combat you learn that the enemy looks very much like you.
- A/1/7 During a 20 mile hike you realize that if the enemy were hidden in the trees you would have been shot ten times over.
- A/1/8 Your Sergeant has an IQ of 56. He makes you stand at attention for 2 hours because you looked at him funny.
- A/1/9 You have graduated from basic training because everyone does. You have learned: 1. To salute and bow down to officers, 2. To fear your sergeant, 3. To stand at attention, 4. To march in a straight line, 5. NOT to question.
- A/1/10 Do you really think you can survive?

Bamboo screen covered with Vietnam pictures.

- A/2/1 You used to have doubts about the war--but now you are in Vietnam - So you convince yourself the war is right...you have to survive.
- A/2/2 You're in Saigon feeling lonely -- a young girl will make you feel warm for a price.
- A/2/3 Daylight--Vietnamese smile. At night you can't see their faces. They may plant a bomb in your house.
- A/2/4 The corrupt government makes you kill kids. How much longer can you do it?

CHANCE cards

- A/3/1 Welcome to the V.A. Hospital. Lucky you! You're not one of the 21,063 Dead G.I.'s.
- A/3/2 Even if we have to amputate...Don't worry, your family will be provided for.
- A/3/3 Today was an exciting day! There was a party in your ward. A pretty volunteer pushed your wheelchair. You also got an extra carton of Marlboros.
- A/3/4 Here's the way out of the V.A. Hospital (arrow pointing to stakes with cross and star of David)

W/C/1

Well, you have dropped out of school and you now have a choice. If you want to be a hippy and live a life of love and ease (more or less) take the path to the right. If you want to be a worker and have dignity and respect (more or less) take the path straight ahead.

W/C/2

Well, things are bad and getting worse. Some of the workers want to form a union and go on strike. You must now make a choice. If you want to go out on strike with them (and risk losing your job, your furniture, your car, etc.) then continue straight ahead. If you do not want to go out on strike (and assume the risks) then take the path to the right.

W/C/3

The leaders of the AFL-CIO International with which your union is now affiliated has signed a "sweetheart" contract with your boss. You now must make a decision. If you want to continue to fight on, against both your boss and the establishment union leaders, continue straight ahead. If you do not want to fight such a battle take the path to the right.

- W/4/1 Worker, you are now a worker. (Picture of worker)
- W/4/2 This is your assembly line. Please move the beads to the right, then back. (String with beads attached to poster)
- W/4/3 Your job cycle is 10 seconds. You now do this 8 hours a day 5 days a week.
- W/4/4 After the novelty of a new job wears off (1 hour), you are bored since you have human intelligence.
- W/4/5 You resolve to quit, but you realize it's either work or starve.
- W/4/6 The boss hires an "efficiency expert" who decides that you can do the same work in 8 seconds instead of 10.
- W/4/7 The boss is overjoyed at this report and now you have an 8 second job cycle.
- W/4/8 The boss lays off 20% of the shop because he doesn't need them with the 8 second job cycle.
- W/4/9 Those who are laid off can't find work in this area, and lacking union benefits, go on welfare.
- W/4/10 Do you still believe that exploitation is a figment of Marx's imagination?
- W/4/11 Some of your fellow employees are talking "Union." But you are undecided. Some unions are run by gangsters, others (you hear) have "Reds" in their ranks.

- W/5/1 You are striking for -- union recognition, equal practices, safety standards, job security, and dignity. Good luck.
- W/5/2 The news media doesn't see it that way. Your strike is -- "illtimed and irresponsible" also "illegal." Your demands are -- "unreasonable and impossible to grant." Your leadership is -- "power hungry and demagogic."
- W/5/3 Your boss refuses to negotiate so... (strike pictures)
- W/5/4 Your boss hires scabs...so you must stop them. (Pictures of strikers fighting scabs)
- W/5/5 The cops -- side with your boss. (Pictures of cops beating picketers)
- W/5/6 The strike drags on - and your money runs out.
- W/5/7 The government appoints a "mediator" and puts pressure on the AFL-CIO "fat cats."
- W/5/8 The "big boys" decide on a "compromise" and the strike is "settled."
- W/5/9 Terms?? Union recognition (but no power), small pay raise, no say on fair practices, those arrested not rehired, no dignity.

- W/6/1 You have decided to oppose the sell out practices of your union.
- W/6/2 You start by talking to some of your co-workers about some of the things that bother you.
- W/6/3 You now have several ex-friends, one of whom reports you to the shop steward.
- W/6/4 Narrowly keeping your job, you finally find co-workers who agree with you.
- W/6/5 You and your friends make plans to air your grievances at the next union meeting.
- W/6/6 After you get out of the hospital you proceed more cautiously!
- W/6/7 After months of arguing and educating people you have thrown out the incumbent officers of your union.
- W/6/8 The International's answer is to suspend the charter of your local, i.e. rank and file power, and put back the old leadership.
- W/6/9 Under your persuasion the local votes for a wildcat strike.
- W/6/10 The demands are rank and file democracy, better working conditions, and protection from the speed-up and accompanying lay-offs.

- W/7/1A Through the muscle of the International in collusion with the bosses the wildcat strike is crushed.
- W/7/1B You are demoralized, but resolve to fight on.
- W/7/2 You struggle for a country that allows people to have control over their own lives. For a country that is no longer infected with the 3 "isms" of imperialism, militarism, and racism.
- W/7/3 For a country that uses its human and economic resources for the good of all rather than for the benefit of a small elite.
- W/7/4 For a country that uses its educational institutions to develop and enlighten people rather than condition them to support a corrupt status quo.
- W/7/5 For a country that fulfills the promises of the Declaration of Independence.
- W/7/6 "We hold these truths to be self evident, etc."

- W/8/1 In recent strikes the leaders have settled for far less than the rank and file demands.
- W/8/2 You are on strike again, in part because your "leaders" have sold out in previous contracts.
- W/8/3 You lead a comfortable life but you have lost representation in your leadership and have accepted.
- W/8/4 A co-worker fought for rank and file control over leadership.
- W/8/5 He was expelled from his job and the union for being an "agitator."
- W/8/6 Your union's hiring practices have improved but -- there is still discrimination.
- W/8/7 You have acquiesced to all this -- COP OUT

- W/9/1 You've made the decision to become a strike breaker.
- W/9/2 You've been told by the company that strikes are unAmerican and are only perpetrated to weaken the American way of life.
- W/9/3 Why should anyone go out to strike when the company has provided---a free credit card plan, after one year with the company, and a stock option plan.
- W/9/4 Anyway, why take a chance on losing your t.v. and late model car. Your time payments and lay away plans have to be met and the strike could never end.
- W/9/5 So you didn't have anything to do with the strike, anyway. It was only some trouble-makers who had begun to complain and organize their fellow workers who started it in the first place.
- W/9/6 You've always got a friend when you stick with the company. They will even give you a funeral below cost after 20 years of faithful service.
- W/9/7 The strike is finally over and you are pleased with what the union has won.
- W/9/8 You can't understand why your former friends shun you.
- W/9/9 SCHMUCK

- M/1/1 These are your 2nd 2 years of college. You have decided to accept the bullshit and see it through.
- M/1/2 Question: Do you really understand how the last sentence you copied from your textbook relates to you? Does it matter anymore?
- M/1/3 Question: Do you refuse to support a movement you believe in for fear of being suspended?
- M/1/4 You have learned, if you're smart, that it's better to cheat and pass, than fail and be drafted. Will you follow this philosophy the rest of your life?
- M/1/5 A company comes to campus. They offer you $10,000 for your upcoming degree. They make war machines. The university also makes war machines and they don't pay you anything.
- M/1/6 This was your year's thesis -- (picture of book titled Analysis of 16th Century Albanian Verse). These are the men who read it -- (cartoon picture of professors).
- M/1/7 Graduation! Do you understand the world you live in better now than when you started college?
- M/D You are now faced with the draft. Please flip up the top card and follow the directions.
- M/C/1 You now have a choice. The path straight ahead leads to the world of private enterprise. To the right the path leads to government service.

- M/3/1 Picture of bôg city -- This is where you work 8 hours a day, 5 days a week. Most of the time you sit behind a mahogany desk.
- M/3/2 Collage -- Frozen in Suburbia. This is where you live 12 hours a day, seven days a week. You never see your neighbors and they never see you.
- M/3/3 Picture of t.v. -- This is what you sit before 4 hours of the day. It lets you know what to think.
- M/3/4 American Financial Corporation Annual Report 1963 (inside a picture of a cash register and a cartoon showing U.S. investment abroad.) This is where you invest your money. You worship at this shrine. It's success is your success.
- M/3/5 Picture of fat businessman. This is you at 40.
- M/3/6 Cartoon of man with pink face and a vise on his nose-- This is also you at 40.
- M/3/7 Collage - Hair color ad for men, lipstick ad, businessman with key in his back, "Nobody knows my name," "Your psychiatrist can't tell you about it," "What's he doing at IBM," "Do you mean to stand there and tell us you don't know," "I felt there was something out there for me - I had no idea what."
Do you know: 1. Statistics on suicide and alcoholism in the middle class? 2. Statistics on divorces and alimony payments in California? 3. Average debt and mortgage payments?
- M/3/8 If you survive, you might retire when you are sixty. If you have massed any wealth and caught up with your debts it is only because you didn't mind exploiting your fellow man. Also, your energy has been sapped with all the effort it took to protect your property rights, lest someone (continued)
- M/3/9 even more cunning than you exploit your fortune. In short, if you are not senile you hate yourself or the rest of mankind.
- M/3/10 Picture of a flower child -- Your children have run away. Why?

- M/6/1 Yesterday you wrote a letter to your boss asking him to add another notch to his gun because yesterday your brother was killed in Vietnam.
- M/6/2 Today you were ordered to a psychiatrist.
- M/6/3 At least you're getting help.
- M/6/4 This week is the time to make your commitment to America with your department's bond buying program.
- M/6/5 Ad for savings bonds, freedom shares - picture of a soldier.
- M/6/6 You were told that it was too bad you didn't get a raise but don't complain because it's unpatriotic.
- M/6/7 Don't strike because it's against the law.
- M/6/8 For those wanting a promotion...Polygraph. ~~~~~ - Have you ever masturbated? ~~~~~ - Have you ever sworn at your superior?
- M/6/9 ~~~~~ - Did you ever march in or support a demonstration?
- M/6/10 For those of you with an affirmative answer to at least one of these questions we will provide a demotion and a full security investigation.
- M/6/11 For those of you who go on to a glorious civil service career we have...

M/6/12
