Mountain—A Lamar Countyiseum became the symbol of a new era yesterday when the last school-busload swept into the Western Bell Field the fans in the stands stood and cheered;

The opening of a fifth school, in Lamar County, yesterday marked the end of countywide store sales tax devoted to education.

The reason for setting up unemployment in the different areas were pretty much the same. They were all in the last leg of a long, slow, arduous process of getting a public school system.

The Lamar County school system will be a model for others to follow in the future.

The school board of trustees was named yesterday, and the school will be ready to open next year.

As far as the five school-rural areas are concerned they will be receiving the same attention as any other area but they will be in the process of getting a public school system for the future.

The bill would provide $1.75 billion dollars for the six school districts in five counties, including the South Central Dothan, for the purpose of establishing public schools.

The bill was brought in the General Assembly of the State of Alabama for the purpose of establishing public schools in the county and to get the necessary funds to establish public schools in the county.

The bill will be introduced in the House of Representatives in the General Assembly of the State of Alabama for the purpose of establishing public schools in the county.

The purpose of the bill is to provide the necessary funds to establish public schools in the county and to get the necessary funds to establish public schools in the county.

The bill is the result of the efforts of the school board of trustees and the school administration to get the necessary funds to establish public schools in the county.

The Tuskegee Summer Program is designed to be a comprehensive, full-service, four-week program for high school students, grades 9-12, that focuses on leadership development, academic excellence, and personal growth.

The program offers a variety of enrichment activities, including academic tutorials, health and wellness workshops, career exploration sessions, and community service opportunities.

The program is structured to provide a supportive and challenging environment that fosters critical thinking, problem-solving skills, and personal development.

Reactions to the COPE Project End

By Robert Lee Stringer

The reaction to the COPE Project End was mixed. While there was appreciation for the project's contributions, there were also concerns about its impact.

Many believed the project had been successful in achieving its goals, but others were concerned about the sustainability of its outcomes.

The project's conclusion was marked by a sense of both accomplishment and uncertainty.

Why Not Women on Juries?

Three women were among the five Negroes who recently served on a jury in Montgomery County. "Just as salt gives flavor, the women gave character," says Judge J. L. Brown. "They have served in the House and in the Senate. They have been appointed to judgeships." If they win the case, these women won't be able to serve in the future. In Alabama, women can't be members of the House or Senate, and we hope it remains so. It's a more personal level, too, sports can make a difference. In addition, there is a large number of women serving as judges in the United States. They have the ability and the experience to contribute to the justice system.

Sports for All Sorts

This week and the next, many of Alabama's schools will be introduced to the new World Series. The new World Series is a tournament in which teams from all over the world compete. The games are full of excitement and suspense, and they are a great way for students to learn about sports and teamwork.

The U.S. and the World

Space

When the U.S. astronauts were halfway towards the moon, they received word that a Soviet spy plane had been shot down. The day before, a U.S. plane had been shot down near the border between China and North Korea. The Cold War was heating up, and the world was on the brink of war.

For Military

The U.S. Army is working hard to recruit more women for military service. They are spreading the message that women can serve in all branches of the military, and they are actively recruiting women to join the Army, Navy, Air Force, and Marine Corps. The Army is also working to ensure that women have equal opportunities and treatment in the military.

Whiteys 'Get the Message' on Watts: Negroes Isolated From White World

Blacks were locked down even from the civil rights movement. All the major rights groups have headquarters in Los Angeles. At the end of the 1960s, more than 100,000 people were stationed at Watts. To protect their constituencies, they had to go there.

Law-Makers Pass the Buck on Reapportionment of State

Court Honors Founders

This report was false. American, the church, is seeking the support of the courts to ensure the rights of African Americans. The church has spoken out in favor of the cause, and it has been supported by the courts.

Church Honors Founders

The state legislators this session knew they had to work hard to redraw the districts. They had to bring Negroes into the law-making process. They don't want to be set aside. The past generation of whites, with the help of white legislators, has been working to push Negroes into the law-making process.

Jonathan Daniels Writes of the Black Belt

We are beginning to believe deeply in original sin.

The judge... a blackbelt

To what it was necessary to talk to the man we had heard from our friends in Selma, the eldest daughter of the Gospel, "Come to us, we will always be welcome in your home."

Jonathan and Judy, will always be welcome in "the house of God," will always be welcome in "the house of God."

So... there are good men here, just as there are bad men. There are competent leaders and unskilled workers here, these have undertaken the risk of coming into接触 the exchange of freedoms and a union with their communities. We have men who are capable of understanding the human condition. We have men who are capable of understanding the human condition.

The church is critical here and there. We have activists who risk their life, and sometimes we hold a child.

Some... There are competent leaders and unskilled workers here, these have undertaken the risk of coming into contact with their communities. We have men who are capable of understanding the human condition. We have men who are capable of understanding the human condition.

We are called to be saints

Perhaps in no other battle, there are so many of them; sometimes we take to the streets, sometimes we come through invisible means, sometimes we talk with white men in their homes and offices... sometimes we confront the peace, and sometimes we call. Sometimes we stand with men who have learned to hate, and sometimes we meet at a little apart from them.

Our lives are filled with this, and in our lives with men everywhere. We are surrounded by men everywhere we go. We are surrounded by men everywhere we go.

We are surrounded by men everywhere we go. We are surrounded by men everywhere we go.

For through the blackbelt -- the land and the people we are speaking about -- we are speaking of the world. It needs the life and vision of militant love.
Northern Teams Powerful

High-school football powerhouses may impress in Huntsville this fall, but other teams who are not in the top-tier of Alabama schools are still capable of making a name for themselves in the state, just as they have done in the past.

The North Alabama Conference will feature some of the strongest teams in the state, including the Tuscaloosa City Schools, the Athens City Schools, and the Florence City Schools. These teams have all won state championships in the past and are expected to be contenders once again this year.

Montgomery Champs Fade

Montgomery has been one of the strongest football programs in the state for many years, but last year they fell short of expectations. The team lost several key players to graduation and other factors, which led to a decline in their performance.

However, Montgomery is still a strong team and has a chance to rebound this year. They will need to focus on their defense and improve their passing game if they hope to return to the state championship level.

FallMeansFootball

To lots of us, September means football. The girls in our daydreams wear cheerleading uniforms. When nobody's watching, we drop back into imaginary pockets, stiff-arm make-believe and along, long, long.

At Montgomery's George Washington Carrherr High, the game was played on a field that was one day late last month, when 80 hopefuls put on the pads.

"Sure as you've got any guts, we'll find a place for you," growled coach John Fulghum, and all 80 lined up, out and down, the day before the first day of practice. The second day of practice, the Generals lost all but 3 of 4 creditable players, and a large number of their second-stringers.

Coach Tom Jones can't decide among the best of the state's teams. Only 15 returnees, but only 15 returnees.

"One player said last year had a lot of good looks, there were so many of them," he said.

Among the good looks are Muskogee Hawk players, O.F. Lomax, fullback, and P.C. Huguley, quarterback offense, should be a threat for the Negro championship.

Last year the school was AAA champion, the best of the Negro teams, this year the team aims to stay on top. But Johnny Fulghum says, don't walk off the field. At Carrherr, you might think nothing else mattered.

Montgomery County Athletic Association

The Harper 9-1 team will be a threat for the Negro championship, they learn from the best who know how.

"Watch Gilchrist, he'll show you some blocking, some blocking, some blocking, some blocking, some blocking, some blocking, some blocking.

It's all a sudden, weekend begins something extra. The girls in our daydreams wear cheerleading uniforms. When nobody's watching, we drop back into imaginary pockets, stiff-arm make-believe and along, long, long.

Greenbriar

by J. A. GREEN

Greenbriar is a car that is nothing but a two-year-old Flivver that we got in Galveston a couple of years back.

One young negro boy said that he could not get along without it. The man was driving at a high rate of speed. Suddenly, he stopped and said, "It's 30 yards before you hit the wall. The man was driving. He hit the wall. He died. He hit the wall. He died. He hit the wall. He died."

The child had general convulsions all over his body. He was driven to the hospital. The doctors said, "That's not right. It's not a car."

One of the Negroes said that the man was at the hospital. He was asked, "Do you know what happened?"

"No," he said. "I was there too."

"Well," said the doctor, "You're not supposed to be there.

The trouble was, the letter didn't arrive.

One was told that a few seconds later, the same man was killed. He died at the hospital. He died as a result of those convulsions. He died as a result of those convulsions.

While these principles in mind, the SOUTHERN COURIER cannot ignore the fact that most of Alabama's Negroes are denied the right to vote. We believe that all men are entitled to equal protection under the laws and the equal right to vote. This is a basic principle in which this newspaper believes.
