

HATTIESBURG: TO Laurence Guyot 10/28 3:30:arrests
Mrs. Norwood, Hattiesburg

This afternoon Hatts. police went into Whirly Bird Cafe with warrant, went into kitchen, turned over garbage on floor, handled food in refrig., walked on counters, etc., and came out with bottle of whiskey, charging owner, Mrs. Norwood, with possession of alcohol---bond is $100. Police had gone in their after Yale guys had gone in to get lunch. police have been following them around. Also followed waitresses from cafe when they brought the lunch order to office.

Also arrested:

John Elsie, 16, Yale Divinity.
arrested outside the office. Charged with improper parking, interfering with an officer, investigating for stolen auto (the auto was his and he did have registration)
No bond

Gerald Bray, 20, Detroit

Doug Smith, 17, Hattiesburg, (High School) followed by 2 carloads of police and arrested. Guyot doesn't know the charges.

Because of the general police intimidation the Hattiesburg people are changing their attitudes toward the rock election. They're beginning to turn in ballot boxes. Guyot says it's just a matter of time before they're all picked up.
