

July 11 - Report of C.B. Burton to Mermie McKay

I went to South west Drug store, he met us coming on the outside of the door. He hoñlered "You^a all go somewhere else, don't come in here." We left that drug store and went to Evangeline's. He said, "What you all want." We said we wanted service, he said, "I'm sorry, we can't serve you all." The next place was Traveler's Inn. We walked in there, a lady came to us and she said, "What can we do for you all." We said we wanted service. She said, "We had orders not to serve you all, and leave now so we don't have any trouble." We left.

The three men involved were C.B.Burton, Johnny B.Creer, and Early Barfield.
