Dear Jo Ann:

I was so stirred up by your decision to stay in Mississippi and by your suggestion of a special fund for starting nonviolence libraries in the freedom schools I thought I would write you immediately but have not been able to do so.

I am going to bring this up at our very next staff meeting to see if we can't get something going right away. It ought to fit in very well with other ideas that are being developed for Mississippi and I will share these too with you as things develop. All the best in your brave efforts to stay with the situation. I hope that all of you are aware of the changing regard that people have all over the world for what this small group is able to do. I was particularly encouraged by all of the good space the recent issue of Look gave to your efforts and our own FOR man, Ed King.

Expect to hear from us again in a week or two. Is this the correct address that we have for you?

Sincerely,

James S. Best
