

523 Chestnut Street
Kellogg, Idaho 83837
January 6, 1965

Dear Lois,

When you round up the poems from the summer project, would you please try your darndest to find some pictures? They do wonders for a feature. And if credit is to be given just make a note of it on the back, lightly!

Small interuption. The Lutheran minister, Mr. Householder, stopped in to talk about a teenager of his flock who is having problems. My reaction is, "How much to boot must they have to trade him for Father King?" He is terrific person and no wonder the congregation is delighted with him. And to take the trouble to see me about background, gad!

Kellogg is enjoying its umteenth snow storm, today. It changed from yesterday's heavy rain a short while ago. If this keeps up, we'll have another Christmas week!

Am enclosing my check for the CORFO Bulletin. Am looking forward to keeping up with your various activities!

Thanks again for coming down and good luck to both you and CORFO!

Sincerely,
Joy Culp
Mrs. Orville Culp

*Answered
C. Feb 1*