DELORES JOHNSON
Route 3, Box 165

I went to Magnolia jail to register to vote. The police met me and three others and asked us what did we want and we told them we were there to register and he told us they were having court, and that we could not register. And that we would have to leave. We didn't leave and he arrested us. Then he had me to write my name and address. After that he asked me my age; he asked me if I were white or black and asked if I were a male or female. He asked my height and my weight and asked for an I.D. card.
